Signing this application authorizes an Energy Watch specialist or participating contractor to visit my business and perform the evaluation only; it does not obligate me to pay for any future goods or services. In the unlikely event that any incidental or consequential damage occurs during the evaluation process, each party assumes responsibility for its own negligence, including responsibility for the negligence of its employees, contractors, subcontractors, and agents, and for the claims of third parties resulting from such negligence.

7. What Happens After the Evaluation?

After reviewing the results of the evaluation, I can choose whether or not to proceed. Businesses that decide to make the recommended upgrades will enter into a work order agreement with a participating contractor, and will be responsible for paying costs that are not covered by the Energy Watch rebate. Businesses deciding not to upgrade their lighting or refrigeration are under no further obligation.
